

Blade Sharpening

Sharpening is done on factory-approved equipment, known as hollow-ground. This method allows more pressure at the tips of the blade teeth, thus eliminating dragging and jamming of hair. Blades will cut smoother & stay sharp longer.

Gary's Tips

"How many times can my blades be sharpened?"

Many customers often ask, "How do I know when my blades can no longer be sharpened?" Our own testing has shown if blades are properly maintained, sharpened by a professional technician, and stored to prevent rust damage, they can be re-sharpened as many as thirty times or more, and blade life can last many years. When the ride rails are completely worn to the base of the blade, it should be replaced. We always recommend keeping old worn blades for replacement parts, such as tension springs, screws and sockets.
